Overwhelming Republican Triumph

Nearly complete returns from all the

Mr. Appleton owes his election in the fifth to the belief on the part of these voters, hold ing the balance of power, that he will support the moderate and conservative measures of Lincoln's administration as unreservedly as Mr. Burlingame. In support of this belief they have pointed to the old whig platforms, anti-slavery planks included, to which Mr. Appleton has over and over again subscribed, differing in no essential respect from the Chicago platform of to-day.

The Result in lilinois,

The Chicago papers of yesterday morning claim 15,000 majority for LINCOLN in the State. The Tribune also states that the Republicans have carried both branches of the Legislature, the Senate by one, or three majority, and the Assembly by five or seven. This gives us a majority on joint ballot, and ensures the re-election of Senator TRUMBULL.

FORD DE LAC COUNTY .- The Fond do Lac Commonwealth, of the 8th inst., brings us full returns from that county. The ma jority for LINCOLN and SLOAN is not far from sleven hundred. Three Republicans and two Democrats elected to the Assembly. The entire Republican county ticket is elected by handsome majorities.

That is all the Republicans ask. Let the administration of Mr. Lincoln be judged by its fruits. We have every confidence that it will realize the expectations of its friends, and conquer the prejudices of its opponents.

STEAMBOAT ACCIDENT—SEVENTY LIVES Logr.—About the middle of last month a terrible accident occurred on the Lake of Garda, Italy, by the explosion of a boiler. Seventy persons lost their lives. Only the Captain and two or three of the crew were saved. The whole family of Count Guar-MIRRI, Verona, comprising eight persons, were lost; and the family of Count Avarg-M1, of Salo, suffered the same fate. The steamer was a regular passage boat, from Salo to Limono.

Iowa. - The Dubuque Times of the Sth instant informs us that VANDEVER, Republican candidate for Congress, is elected by 7,000 or 8,000 majority; Course, Republican, for same office, by 2,000 to 3,000. The State has given Lincoln 10,000 to 12,000 majority.

RICHLARD COUNTY .- An extra of the Richland County Observer brings returns from that County. All the towns are heard from except three. Lincoln's majority is 327. The whole Republican county ticket is elected. The towns to hear from will increase the Republican majority.

Corroboratory affidavits were filed by Mr. Hazzard and others mentioned in the plain-uff's affidavit.

The defendant filed an affidavit, in which

him from custody, the only point for de-oision is raised on this objection—that the defendant had not, at the time of the grant-ing the order, the issuing of the capias or the making of the arrest, any intention of quitting the Province of Canada with inten-tion to defrand.

It was not pressed upon me to review the decision of the learned judge who made the order for the arrest, upon any suggestion of the insufficiency of the affidavit before him to have no intention of leaving Canada. In the face of this, he denies an intention of defrauding plaintif, in the first instance, and, to excuse himself, charges the mercantile community, of which he lately formed a member, of commonly practising a similar frend.

The defendant apparently has been some months in this Province without any propmonths in this Province without any property, which is visible or tangible, and without any occupation. There is nothing of that sort to lead to the idea that he may not leave Canada at any moment. But he has found, or at least believes he has found, an asylum against the criminal justice of his asylum against the criminal justice of his own country, and relies on his desire to escape the peril as proof that he has no intention to quit Canada.

With the fact of his indebtedness clearly established; of its being created through fraud; of his having fled to avoid the consequences; and of his having no ties in this Province, any more than anywhere, where he would not be criminally responsible for rrowinse, any mois than any where, we would not be criminally responsible for the acts detailed—all before me, I feel warranted in saying that there is "good and probable cause for concluding that defendant, nuless apprehended, would quit Canada to defrand plaintiff;" and I therefore discharge this summons charge this summons charge this summons.

BY MBS, JELIA FORD, It is a truth, the Bible tells us, Ministering angels sometimes come From heaven above and sweetly tell us Of a brighter, happier home.

Hushing all of worldly strife. Times are oft without control; My yearning heart would quit this earth: There thrills such music through my scul,

Come swelling soft as evening sighs; Who whisper "Come, thy home's on high."

And I know they often call me To that brighter, happier land,

A Glimpse of Abraham Lincoln.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 27, '60. One of your correspondents has straved as far as this western city. I came in from Chicago about daylight this morning, and volutie of them and corre on in triumph to the Chebrery House. I couless that my object in tarrying here on my journey to St. Louis, was the gratification of a not unpardonable desire of seeing Mr. Abraham Lincoln, a curiosity which I find is indulged in by a large number of my fellow countrymen, whose names are on the hotel registers. Some of them have important suggestions to make with reference to the next desiriets. make with reference to the next administra-tion; others are forecasting for certain chices in the gift of the President, and desire forth-with to make Mr. Lincoln's acquaintance, re-slow swinging gait and a costume which looked very much the worse for wear. This was Abraham Lincoln, going thus early to the apartment in the State House in which he receives the calls of those who desire to see him. If I had much him in the attermost parts of the earth. I should have known

Dr. Jas. PacClintock's Asthma Remada by a letter of introduction, I made Mr. Lincoln's acquaintance. In prisonal appearaments and innocuous specific for all diseases of an asthmatic type, is producing the most surprising results in the worst cases of whooping cough. Also the worst cases of which worst cases of whooping cough. Also the worst cases of whooping cough. ing as the latter, but seems older than either represent him. The truth is, he is a plain, unaffected, awkward sort of a man, with as intle regard for his personal appearance as the probably has for the criticisms of others upon it. He has a genial frankness and a heartiness of manner that are prepossessing, and after seeing and talking with him one does not wonder at his popularity here. His neighbors who know him bost, say he is singers trathful homat, and he worms to sincere, truthful, honest; and he seems to

os. If I were to vote for President on the score

Mr. Lincoln is the recipient of a great vored with a fetter from Alabama, in which a suitable Cabinet was indicated, and the proper line of policy set forth. Presents, too, begin to flow in. An ox chain cut with a jack knife from a rail, hangs in his apartment. It was sent as a delicate compliment by some industrious admirer in the Northwest. After the 6th of November advice and presents will doubtless to forthermore.

Whittier is reading the last proofs of his new volume of poems, southled "Home bal-lads," perhaps the best of his productions. Holms is busy with his admirable story Holins is they with his admirable story now running through the Atlantic Monthly. He is also preparing another volume of poems, to be called "Songs in Meny Keys." A great deal of hitherto unpublished matter will be included in it, the principal poem, being a sort of old time story in verse. Some of the comic portions of the book are said to be in the most pungent vein. "Currents and Counter-Currents," the sherp stick with which the brilliant Doctor came down so boldly and so ably a few months are unon things it the same way.

Emerson has completed his "Conduct of Life" at last, and it will soon see daylight. The papers it contains are eloquent Emersonian chapters, and some of the subjects treated of are as follows: Fate, Power, Wealth, Culture, Beauty, Behavior, Worship, Illu-once more, engaged, it is said, on a romance of English life. Lowell is reported to have several literary ventures on the tapis; among them a volume of prose called "Fireside Travels." A book is no rumor of a book imminent from him. He has returned to Cambridge from his summer retreat at Nahant.

All Theodore Parker's writings have been transferred to Ticknor & Fields, who will publish the work he left in manuscript on Historic Americans. The memoir of Mr. Parker will be included in the same vol-extent of justifying, in the judgment of civilized nations, the adoption of any meas-ures necessary for the restoration of the fuacts subsequently. He is pointedly severe on Massachusetts laws, and says if the laws of Massachusetts cause plunder from Georgia's citizens, that State must be compelled compensate them. He advises reprisals, and says: "Let us meet unjust aggression, and unconstitutional State legislation with just retaliation." al State legislation with just retaliation."

He recommends the enactment of laws authorizing the seizing anch amount of money or property of any citizen of such offending and faithless State, for indemnifying the losses of citizens of Georgia.

He recommends legislation to drive the manufactured articles of such off-ading States and of Georgia.

manufactured articles of such off-inding States out of Georgia. He says Georgia has the right as soon as Northern goods are brought into Georgia, to tax them as she deems proper. He advised the passing of a law taxing goods and merchandise 25 per cent, introduced after the first of January, manufactured in and brought from Massachusetts, Vermont, Michigan, Maine, Rhode Island, New York, Wisconsin, or any other unfriendly States, and the tax to be remitted. When the nofriendly Legislation is repeated—should such legislation prove ineffectual—he recommends the repeat of all parts of the personal and civil code, protecting the lives, liberties and property of the citizens of the States. the States.

Where such unfriendly laws exist, he says, in my opinion the time for bold and decisive action has arrived, and he is unworthy the confidence of the people of Georgia who re-fuses to vindicate her bonor at any cost and maintain her constitutional rights at every hazard. He believes the legislation recom-mended will tend to strengthen rather than weaken the ties of the union of the States. It will desirant sectional contraversy and It will destroy sectional controversy and narrow down the issue to a contest between narrow down the issue to a contest between individual States. He says if the Legislature fails to enact these laws, he recommends that the prople should rise in their unight, and, at the ballot-box, demand their enactment.

The Governor entertains no doubt of the right of each State to decide to act for heralts of the results of the states abide in mood. lise long as all the States abide in good

For the purpose of putting the Stats in a defensive condition as fast as possible, preparing for the emergency which must be met sooner or later, he recommends the sum of a million of dollars to be immediately appropriated as a military fund for the ensuing year, and prompt provision be made for raising such portions of the money as may not be in the treasury as fast as the public expenditures require. "Millions for defence; not one cent for thote," should be the future motto of the Southern States. To every demand for further concession or compromise

RAISING THE NILE. CALED Harrison has undertaken the job of raising the half of the old sceamer Nile, which has lain em-bedded in water and mud undisturbed for the past eleven vectos. The Bile, it will be remembered by suck at her dock in this city in the year 1849. The scene of the disaster was about balf a mile below Joses' old ship yard, near the mouth of the river-a portion of the city now completely inundated. The hall was stripped of the engines, machinery and everything of value that escaped destruction by the fire, but the present is the first attempt that has over been made to raise it. In her day the Nils was noted for bargreat strength, and other good challties, and singular as it may appear, it is said that her timbers are to this day perfectly sound. The preparatory work of raising has progressed accessfully, and by to-day Mr. Maketson expects to have her in Wolf & Lawnence's dry docks, where she is to be rebuilt as a propeller, or sail vessel, he cany be decided upon. We understand that Mr. However as refused $5,000 for the old hall since he counterped raising-pretty good evidence that it is not worthless, SECOND THE SO VOICOISM Full particulars of the frightful explosion at , Chic ago on Thursday, by which sixteen lives were lost and large amount of property, will be found in another column. It appears from the best evidence at hand that the coinstraphe was occasioned by the auxineer suffering the water to get low in the boiler, which, of course in due time, became red hot, and then sudden-by pumping in cold water. This is the old story of oller explosions, with the addition of (sets which show it to have been one of the most extraordinary exhibitions of hower on report. The force of the laternal gas thus generated was almost volcanic. Of course this lamentable affair will underso a rigid in-enstoned such terrible destruction, has explated bis officies with his life, COMMUNICATION FROM ONE OF THE ENGINEERS OF THE MILWAUKEE, Nov. 0, 1860. En. Servinal: —As I was one of the engineers engaged to take the prop. Globs to Buffalo, on her last trip down, and noticing your comments in this day's issue, I think it my duty to note some circumstances which may have relation to the cause of the explosion

The Globe had two return flue boilers, apparently in good condition; her apparatus for feeding and reg-ulating the bollers was not, in my opinion, strictly in keeping with safety, as it gives the firemen control of NEW PHOTOGRAPHIC ROOMS!! their feeding. When in port there was but one botter employed in moving about from dock to dock and hoisting freight, the steam passage connecting one boiler with the other being closed. Now when the steam passage is closed, and water connections left open, the water is forced from the boiler under which is the fire, leaving the flues and crown sheet bare-hence the emplosion.

While I was getting the Globe ready for her passage down, the change of mater from one boiler to the other was plinted to by Capt. Phatz, who stated the Liability of its recurrence, a cautioned me to give par-ticular attention to it. The valves being under the control of the firemen, (of which there were four) cither one of them, in the absence of the engineer on duty, in handling them to see if they were all right, tolohi easily have made a mistake and jurned the valve the wrong way, giving a connection to the boiler on which there was steam; or the same result might have occurred by the valve leaking, as it did on our downward parsage.

The engineer of the boat, B. Wirson, was a competent man, one who, in my opinion, could be trusted with the duties of this situation, and who has been eight sansacs similarly employed, up to his late and Yours, N. W. DUNLAP. last engagement, DESIUS IT.

A subordingte Custem House officer in this city, a fellow named Herrsman, whose "bilef authority" every vessel captain who does business at this port will be rejoiced to know soon expires, politely tells us that the statement about the propeller Giobs published in yesterday's Sentings was a 0-4 d-d lie, accompanying the information with sundry other characteristic cultilists. Now, in asmuch as the circumstanes alluded to were related to us by the soid Heart-MAN, we have no intention of disputing the latter asmertion. Attany rate we know that the propeller Globe was detailed two or three days here on her last trip to Bullato, and that the detention was attributed to some defect in the working of her boilor or engine.-Whether this defect had anything to do with the explosion will doubtless be elicited by the investigation
